

BUILDING BRIDGES · SPONSORSHIP

Put your name on the next bridge.

Building Bridges convenes senior Croatian and international leaders in medicine and science, embassy by embassy, city by city. Sponsoring an edition places your organisation at the centre of that exchange, with visibility recognised on both sides of it.

WHY SPONSORS JOIN

A room where the people who can start a collaboration are already sitting together.

WHO ATTENDS, AND WHY IT MATTERS

Standing where two medical worlds actually meet.

Each edition gathers around 40 to 50 senior figures, more than 150 across the four cities so far: Croatian biomedical leaders from home and the diaspora, alongside the physicians, scientists and healthcare leaders of the host city. In Zurich that means Swiss institutions; in London, their UK counterparts. Every guest from every edition is invited onward to the Plexus Gala in Zagreb, where the whole network gathers in one room. A sponsor is recognised across all of it, and the recognition runs both ways: visibility in Croatia and in the host city at the same time.

A room of decision-makers

Department heads, principal investigators, founders and clinical leaders, the people who can actually start a collaboration, not just attend a panel about one.

Visibility that travels both ways

Your name is seen by leading Croatian biomedical professionals at home and abroad, and by the host city's institutions, as a partner in a shared effort rather than a logo on a wall.

Real outcomes to point to Editions turn into trial sites, staff exchanges, co-supervised PhDs and signed memoranda. You support work that visibly happens, and that you can report on.

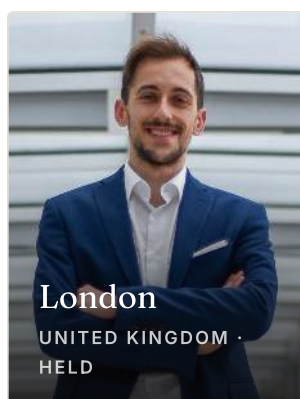

Carried onward to the Gala

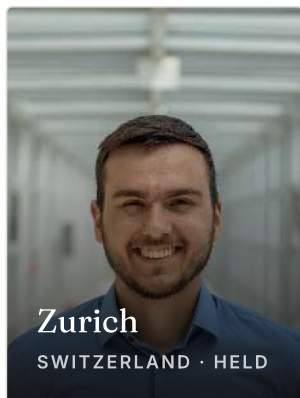

Everyone met across the cities is invited to the Plexus Gala in Zagreb. Partners stay visible to the whole network well beyond the single evening in one city.

— WHERE IT TRAVELS

Editions so far, and the one being built now.

Building Bridges has convened in four cities to date, each pairing Croatian biomedical leaders with the institutions of the host city. Boston is next, at Harvard Medical School in September 2026.

SPONSORSHIP PACKAGES

Three ways to anchor the work.

From co-branding a single edition to standing behind the whole year. Each tier states plainly what it does and what it includes. Prices are anchors; we tailor the detail to your organisation.

SUPPORTING PARTNER

Stand behind an edition

Co-brand a single city edition and be recognised in the room where the conversations start.

EUR 5,000

per edition

- ✓ Co-branding on one chosen edition
- ✓ Presence and recognition at the reception
- ✓ Logo across that edition's materials
- ✓ Acknowledgement in our follow-up to the network

EDITION PARTNER

MOST CHOSEN

Anchor a named city edition

Become the named partner of one full edition, with a speaking moment and premium branding throughout.

EUR 25,000

per named edition

- ✓ Named partner of one city edition
- ✓ A speaking moment in the programme
- ✓ Premium branding across the edition and the room
- ✓ Curated introductions to Croatian and host-city leaders
- ✓ Recognition carried onward to the Plexus Gala
- ✓ Everything in Supporting Partner

LEAD PARTNER

Stand behind the whole year

Partner across multiple editions, or the entire year, as the organisation most closely associated with Building Bridges.

Bespoke

let's talk

- ✓ Partnership across multiple editions or the full year
- ✓ Lead billing across the series and the Plexus Gala
- ✓ A programme shaped together around your priorities
- ✓ Year-round visibility to the whole network
- ✓ Everything in Edition Partner

All tiers can be tailored. Prices are anchors; tell us your goals and we will shape a package around them.

— A LA CARTE

Or support one specific thing.

Some of the strongest bridges began with a single, well-placed contribution. These can stand alone or sit alongside any tier.

Reception or venue

Host or fund the evening reception, or provide the venue, for one edition. Your hospitality becomes the setting where the network meets.

On request

Travel for Croatian speakers

Cover travel for Croatian researchers and clinicians to join an edition abroad, so the right voices are in the room wherever it convenes.

— BECOME A PARTNER

Let's build the next bridge together.

Tell us which edition or tier fits your organisation, and we will tailor it. Boston is next, at Harvard Medical School this September, and the room is being assembled now.
